

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

THE Christmas dance of the Richmond German given last night from 9:30 to 12:30, in Masonic Temple, in point of beautiful decorations, clearly devised figures and a brilliant and distinguished assembly, was quite the most important social function of the holiday season.

Palms, ferns, cedar, holly, mistletoe and poinsettias, grouped and massed in graceful profusion, made the setting for a lovely picture. The music was specially inspiring, and the figures, danced with much animation and enjoyment, included one arranged with special reference to the debutantes present, one in which banners displaying the orange and white, colors of the Richmond German, were borne, and a third in which a weird climax was achieved by the lights being turned low and "sparklers" whirled by the men to produce a wonderful effect in exclamations—punctuated, indeed, by exclamations.

Colonel Stern led with Miss Lora Crump, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Crump, who wore a very fetching gown of pink hand-embroidered chiffon over pink satin, and carried a big bouquet of pink orchids.

Among the special guests of the evening were Mrs. James Brown Potter, lovely indeed, in white brocaded velvet and diamonds, and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, in a black trained gown, edged with sequins and worn with pearls.

The patronesses of the present season, many of whom were in attendance, are: Mrs. R. Carter Scott, Mrs. Thomas Bolling, Mrs. William H. Palmer, Jr., Mrs. Levin Jones, Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, Mrs. Edward C. Mayo, Mrs. Edmund O. McCabe, Mrs. Edward J. Willis and Mrs. A. S. Buford, Jr.

The officers and executive committee include Judge R. Carter Scott, Mr. John Jones, Mr. George M. Reid, Colonel J. Lane Stern, Mr. John Carlie, Mr. Joseph E. Willard, Mr. John T. Anderson and Mr. H. W. Ellerson.

Governor and Mrs. Swanson, who have revived the custom of keeping the Executive Mansion open on New Year's night, will give an official reception Friday evening from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited, this being a time when the Chief Executive and his wife are especially glad to exchange greetings and good wishes with their friends at large throughout the city and State.

Mrs. Swanson will remain here until about the middle of next week, when she will leave for Washington to attend the diplomatic reception, visit friends and enjoy several entertainments planned in her honor.

At Arts and Crafts Shop.

Mrs. R. M. Blankenship and Miss Carrie Coleman will receive visitors to the Arts and Crafts Shop, 201 East Franklin Street, to-morrow from 10:30 A. M. to 1 P. M. from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 9 P. M. Tea and sandwiches will be served in the afternoon, and coffee and sandwiches during the evening.

First Tuesday Dance.

The first dance given by the Tuesday German this season will take place this evening in Masonic Temple. As the younger society set of Richmond largely make up the membership of Tuesday German, the prettiest young matrons of the city are among its patronesses, its entertainments are always bright and attractive. The attendance of the debutantes of the winter and a delightful musical program will combine to render the dance most enjoyable.

The Junior German.

The merry Juniors of the smart set of Richmond will attend a holiday cotillion given under the auspices of the Junior German at Hermitage Golf Club this evening. The school girls, who have returned from their Christmas vacation, a number of visitors to the city, the debutantes-to-be, and the young society boys, chaperoned by young married people, will have a merry close-to-night to the gaities which have made the Christmas of this year memorable for them.

Social Afternoon at Club.

A social afternoon was enjoyed by members of Woman's Club yesterday. The groups present gathered around the tea tables in the parlors, and pleasant hours were spent "over the cups" in discussing topics of interest with reference to the busy weeks for the club during the remainder of the year. Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Munford.

Mr. Philip Alexander Bruce, the distinguished Virginia author, who has returned from a residence in Europe, is spending the Christmas holidays at his permanent home in Ghent, Norfolk, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly B. Munford, on Hermitage Road, during the meeting of the American Historical Association this week.

As Mr. Munford is occupied in a literary work bearing on the history of Virginia, and as Mr. Bruce is bringing his historical series of seventeenth century books to a close by the completion of his "Institutional History" of the State, his visit to a former friend and classmate has been productive of as much pleasure and profit as will be his meeting with the members of the Historical Association, among whom he holds an honored place.

Personal Mention.

The Rev. E. C. Lynch and Mrs. Lynch, of Covington, Va., will spend the next two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Irving F. Beveridge, of 114 West Grace Street, Mrs. Lynch's parents.

Mrs. George H. Jones and daughter, Dorothy, are in the city to spend the Entertained at "Cassalia."

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] KESWICK, VA., December 28.—"Cassalia," the Mecca of all pleasure-seekers at Keswick, on Christmas night was a blaze of light. Warmth and welcome awaited the guests who assembled in its halls to make merry. Mr. and Mrs. Boccocock were assisted in receiving their guests by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Von Mayhoff and Hon. Jefferson M. Lewis.

After having pledged the health of host and hostess, the guests, as is the custom at "Cassalia," went to the servants' hall to hear the old plantation songs and to wish the retainers a happy Christmas. When they came upstairs again a surprise awaited them, for the front parlor had been converted into a stage, and a charming little play was given, entitled "A Fair Encounter," in which Mrs. Boccocock took the part of Lady Clara in a delightful manner, showing marked talent, while Mrs. Thurman was

THE ENGLISH HOME OF "OUR MARY"

"Our Mary," former queen of the American stage, or Mrs. Mary Anderson de Navarro, has just returned to her native land, after eight years in the home of her adoption, England. "I do not regret my more career," said she, "I look back upon it as a pleasant memory, for it dealt kindly with me but I left it without regret, and I have no desire to return to it. There is too much real life happiness for me to wish to go back and pretend happiness for others to enjoy. When I left the stage the playing public, I think, wished me to remain and entertain them. I left when they retained a memory of me as a rising actress. I would not wish to go back and play old-woman parts, even if the love letters of my home did not hold me. You can say that there is not the least truth in the reports that I intend to return to the stage or that I will even take part in theatrical entertainments during my stay here. It is true that I have appeared in England occasionally in the interest of some charity, but that is all, and then only at very rare intervals. Our visit here is purely of a social nature. We have come to renew family ties and to let our children see New York. We have come direct from our home in Worcester, White, England."

SHARP CONTEST IN LEGISLATURE

State Bank Deposit Guarantee Likely to Divide North Carolina Solons.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., December 28.—The guarantee of State bank deposits in North Carolina is to come up before the Legislature, to convene January 6th, with the indorsement of W. W. Kitchin, whose inauguration as Governor takes place January 13th. His inaugural address is, it is understood, to contain an unqualified indorsement of the measure, and recommendation that such an act pass the Legislature at this session. On the other hand, a number of other prominent party leaders active in the State government, including Governor Glenn, are known to decidedly oppose such a course, the contention being that a lesson most forcibly taught by recent national and State election returns is that the people are not ready for such an innovation. One of the sharpest contests in the approaching Legislature is likely to be on this issue.

Millmen Meet.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GREENSBORO, N. C., December 28.—The North Carolina State National Guard Association, with forty commissioned officers, is in session here to-day, and will be over Tuesday. Matters relating to increased efficiency and amendments to the State military law by the incoming Legislature and the election of officers are topics of conversation.

Order Revoked.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., December 28.—Governor Glenn revoked an order for a special term of Brunswick county Superior Court, to convene January 11th, because it would conflict with Cumberland County Court, in the same district, and it would be impossible for Solicitor St. Clair to attend both.

Will Exchange Courts.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., December 28.—An exchange of terms between Judge Cook and Judge Allen is approved by Governor Glenn, whereby Judge Cook will convene at the County Court House, and Judge Allen the Pitt County Court December 13th. Both are two weeks' terms.

FRICK-CARNEGIE WAR IS ON AGAIN

Young Schwab Sang His Way Into Good Graces of Steel King.

ASKS $5,000 DAMAGES

Suit Against Dr. Christopher Tompkins for Personal Injuries.

Suit was instituted yesterday in Law and Equity Court by Lindsay C. White against Dr. Christopher Tompkins and W. E. Russell for damages and at $5,000. Mr. White alleges injuries received by stumbling over a projection or step in front of a house owned by Dr. Tompkins. The suit was once before in Federal court and withdrawn with leave to file an amended bill.

Can you sing?
"Yes, sir."

"Will you play and sing something for me," said the steel man, and with a quiver of the man of steel, and began. Schwab had a fine voice and played well on the piano. For one hour he played and sang for the sick man, and then Carnegie reached out his hand and said:

"To Bill Jones to send you every night with that report. Come early and sing for me again."

And that's how Schwab got his start.

Schwab took the report to Carnegie, and while the steel king looked it over he looked at the fine piano.

"Do you play, young man," said Carnegie, looking up suddenly and catching Schwab looking at the instrument.

"Yes, sir," answered Schwab promptly.
